

Personalisation into Practice

Suzie Franklin with Helen Sanderson

Review

I have known Suzie Franklin for a number of years as a colleague and therefore knew of Jennie and her story; as a Person Centred Thinking trainer and facilitator I had used Jennie's film of moving into her own home, to support our learning. I had also seen PowerPoint presentations developed by Suzie, so to see all that wonderful information in one book was superb.

This book will inspire others to pursue their dreams and aspirations and know that things can become a reality.

It illustrates Person Centred Thinking undertaken to the highest of standards, and that it works. It does not skirt around the challenges but addresses them and answers frequently asked questions.

In the current financial climate it was heartening to see the section on 'Just Enough Support', a guide to people who have had a reduction in budgets and need to look to community solutions.

A joy to read, I feel I know Jennie, though I have never met her. This book is an inspiration to us all, people who have autism, their families and supporters.
